TEN GENTS

Teen-Age Negroes Arrested

SELMA, Ala., Feb. 3 (UPI)—About 300 teen-age Negroes were arrested at Selma and 400 others at nearby Marion today in right-to-vote demonstrations.

Sheriff James G. Clark arrested those at Selma. The singing teen-agers locked arm-in-arm and swayed in unison. Then they separated and clapped hands.

Clark and his deputies made no move at first. He waited until all of the demonstrators reached the Dallas county courthouse. Then he told them they were under arrest.

At Marion, 30 miles west of Selma, state troopers and sheriff's deputies began corralling the Negro teen-agers as the right-to-vote demonstrations picked up in Perry county.

Part of those arrested at Marion were locked inside a wire fence surrounding the jail while others were hemmed in against a wall of the courthouse across the street.

The White House said in Washington that President Johnson is being kept informed on the tense racial situation in Alabama.

The students at Selma lined up on the sidewalk in front of the courthouse singing "We Shall Overcome" and "Ain't Gonna Let Nobody Turn Me Around," two of their favorite songs.

An hour earlier a smaller group of Negro demonstrators—about two dozen—had marched to the courthouse and were taken immediately to a state court judge. He released them and warned them they would be held in contempt of court if they remained.

Other demonstrators in greater numbers earlier in the week were arrested on contempt of court charges when they fled outside the courthouse and refused to move.

When today's group arrived, Sheriff James G. Clark led them into the building and took them to the courtroom of Judge James A. Hare.

Hare told the Negroes they see NEGROES, Page 2, Column 7.

Fighting in Laotian City Erupts Again

VIENTIANE, Laos, Feb. 3 (UPI)—Heavy fighting broke out today in Vientiane as troops of right-wing Gen. Phoumi Noosavong battled with artillery, machineguns and tanks to seize the capital from his former right-wing colleagues.

Artillery shells crashed around the American, British and Thai embassies and hit the U.S. embassy's marine guard barracks. Thai Second Secretary Chote Ponsophon was killed when a stray artillery round burst in the embassy compound.

No Americans were reported injured but by noon casualties were reported to be at least 30 killed and wounded. Indiscriminate artillery fire exploded throughout the city, adding to the toll and sending thousands of Laotians fleeing across the river to Thailand.

The armed forces in Thailand were placed on an alert status following reports the pro-communist Pathet Lao forces were taking advantage of the fighting to attack Laotian border villages.

Two Trapped Under Truck Near Oakley

OAKLEY, Feb. 3—Two men were injured Tuesday afternoon when the truck in which they were riding slid out of control on a gravel road, overturned onto its side and pinned both men in the cab of the truck for about an hour before they were freed.

Omie Baker, 41, Oakley, and Bodine Hale, about 20, Salt Lake City, were listed in good condition today at Cassia Memorial Hospital, Burley, where they were brought after the one-truck accident, which occurred seven miles south of here in the Goose Creek area.

Baker was driver of a 1942 Chevrolet army truck, owned by Rachel Judd, Oakley, loaded with decorative rock being brought to Oakley. Baker and Hale, a passenger in the truck, were traveling north on the road, which was reportedly wet and icy.

Under the measure, entitled "the daylight saving time act," the Idahoan would advance their clocks one hour for a period extending from the last Sunday in April until the last Sunday in September.

Several communities in north Idaho adopt daylight saving time now but the practice has not been followed in the southern part of the state.

Snow Survey Report Shows Big Increases

Practically every snow survey station registered a higher measurement than year ago, and it was well over the 10-year average in many places, reports Glenn Nelson, chairman, Twin Falls soil conservation district. Surveys have been completed for the first of February and it appears that Salmon and Roseworth tract farmers are in for a good water year. Magic mountain had 66 inches of snow with 20 inches of water content, compared to 52 inches a year ago with 14.2 inches of water content. The 10-year average on water content is 12.4 inches. Deadline ridge has 67.2 inches of snow with 25.7 inches of water, compared to 80 inches of snow and 16.7 inches of water content. The 10-year average is 13.4 inches of water.

Shoshone registered the only drop in the report. There are 12.5 inches of snow and 2.7 inches of water, compared to 27.1 inches of snow and 6.25 inches of water a year ago. The average is 21.1 inches of water.

Hummingbird Springs had 61 inches of snow and 27.5 inches of water, compared to 46 inches of snow and 13.2 inches of water in 1964, and the average is 10 inches of water.

Pole creek had 64.2 inches of snow, 18.3 inches of water, compared to 45 inches of snow and 13.3 inches of water in 1964 and the average is 10 inches of water.

Gnat creek had 37 inches of snow, 11 inches of water, compared to 36 inches of snow and 10.4 inches of water in 1964. The average is nine inches.

Cedar creek is down somewhat from a year ago, but still is above average. There are 24 inches of snow, 7.5 inches of water, compared to 31 inches of snow and nine inches of water. Average is 5.7 inches of water.

Bear creek meadows had 53 inches of snow, 16 inches of water, compared to 42 inches of snow and 13 inches of water a year ago. Average is 10.5 inches of water.

Red Point had 19 inches of snow, 5.5 inches of water, compared to 38 inches of snow and 10.7 inches of water. Average is 4.8 inches of water.

Wilson creek had 32 inches of snow, 9.5 inches of water, compared to 26 inches of snow and 6.2 inches of water. Average is 10.5 inches of water.

High snows continue to increase and low snows, while under the fork of the Salmon river.

Holland reported the mishap of the 1964 level, held near the local office of the federal 10-year average mark. To the local office of the federal creaks are running high and muddy and inflow into the rest of the Salmon river area by another error is good. Soil moisture is high and the picture is bright, said Holland, owner of the plane.

He said the plane broke through the crust of the snow while he was beginning to taxi up the runway. The plane tipped forward and the propeller was bent. He said the bent propeller is the only apparent damage.

Holland was alone in the plane and was not injured.

Under the measure, entitled "the daylight saving time act," the Idahoan would advance their clocks one hour for a period extending from the last Sunday in April until the last Sunday in September.

Guard Units Push "Operation 400"

By MIKE McGREER

During forthcoming negotiations on the integration of the army reserve and army national guard, a full 100 per cent priority aggregate strength is required by the guard. February is the month designed to obtain the full strength and under the title of "Operation 400" the guard units in Idaho will attempt to recruit 400 men to be at full strength by the deadline, Feb. 28.

The eight guard units in Magic Valley will need approximately 100 men to be at full strength. This does not mean they will only take 100 men. Any person interested in joining the guard, who qualifies, may do so.

The new army national guard, which results from absorption of the army reserve units, would comprise some 6,000 units—a gain of 2,000—and 550,000 officers and men—a 150,000 increase above the present program.

That's 2,000 units and 150,000 personnel below the current authorization for the guard and they combined.

The "mother regiment" of the 116th armored cavalry, which encompasses southern Idaho was the first cavalry regiment. Idaho national guard, constituted March 4, 1920.

During the early 1930's the regular army was beginning to see the end of the horse cavalry. Armored forces were in the budding stage and some horse cavalry.

"We believe we have smashed the top echelon of one of the largest rings of wholesalers and distributors of narcotics in the New York area. We have estimated that this group under indictment would turn over $30 million dollars worth of narcotics into the retail market every four months," he said.

Koota declined to discuss any of the defendants' possible ties with the Cosa Nostra, or Mafia, underworld syndicates.

Ability to Manage Farm Is Stressed

WASHINGTON. Feb. 3—Look to the farmer's ability as a manager in setting his credit rating, a farm credit official said land bank association managers and appraisers in January.

"Increasing importance is being placed by lenders on the managerial skill and overall business savvy of the farm-loan applicant," M. K. Mathews, deputy director, farm credit administration's land bank service said. "With this rapidly changing agriculture, farm operators who demonstrate they can adjust quickly to the ebb and flow of economic conditions and opportunities are in a favorable position."

"Lenders, too, need to adjust their programs to meet changing needs of farmers. Special attention and analysis of each application is paramount in order to determine the debt-carrying capacity of both the farm and the man," Mathews said.

Turkey Crop To Increase 4 Per Cent

BOISE. Feb. 3—Turkey growers intend to produce four percent more turkeys in 1965 than last year according to the crop reporting board. Present plans of growers are to increase heavy breeds two percent with heavy whites up 12 percent and other heavy breeds down five percent. For light breeds an increase of 13 percent is planned.

Assuming growers carry out their intentions, the 1965 crop for the nation will be about 102 million turkeys compared with the revised estimate of 90 million turkeys raised in 1964. Increased production is planned in all regions of the country except the North Atlantic and the West. Decreases of two percent are planned in the Western regions.

Weather, Temperatures More Sports

Highs 29-48, lows 27-36, except Camas prairie high in 30s, lows 10-18. Outlook for Friday increased cloudiness with chance of a little light rain. Temperatures at 8 a.m., 26 at Jerome; 29 at T. Barometer: 30.30.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST.

A slight ridge of high pressure is expected to persist over the West Coast states with low pressure forming in the eastern Pacific. The upper airflow will be from the west to southwest into the Intermountain region. Higher pressure now at the surface will be weakened and moved to the southeast into the weekend.

Temperatures over the valleys of southern Idaho will average from three to 10 degrees above normal through Monday. Near-normal temperatures are indicated by the latter part of the week-end and into the first of next week, especially in the more northern valleys of southern Idaho. Some normal maximum and minimum temperatures are Gooding 36-48, Twin Falls 22-23, and Buhl 39-49.

Precipitation in the form of rain in the valleys and snow in the mountains is expected about Friday or Saturday and again after the first of next week. Total amounts will range from 25 to 45 mm. in inch in valley areas with heavier amounts of snowfall in the mountain areas.

Largest amounts of sunshine will occur into the latter part of the week but will give way to mostly cloudy conditions over the week-end. Sunshine will average around 40 to 45 per cent of possible. Winds will become stronger and gusty at times over the week-end.

SYNOPSIS AND AGRICULTURAL SUMMARY.

High pressure at the surface covers much of the United States with a center of high pressure located over Tennessee and another center located in eastern Utah and western Colorado. The only pressure falls that are noted were occurring along the Washington-Oregon coast as a Pacific frontal system remains nearly stationary just off the coast.

Variable cloudiness is occurring over the valleys of southern Idaho as moisture from the Pacific rides in over the higher pressure in the upper levels. Sunshine will continue to be quite abundant today and Thursday in most valleys of southern Idaho, but by Friday an increase in cloudiness from the Pacific Northwest will give cloudy skies and a chance of light rain to the valleys of southern Idaho.

Maximum temperatures today and Thursday will rise into the mid 40s. Minimum temperatures tonight will be in the 20s to mid 30s, except in Camas prairie where sub-zero readings are expected.

Nighttime temperatures last night were a few degrees higher at most reporting points.

TEMPERATURE AND PRECIPITATION.

Highest temperature Tuesday, lowest temperature last 12 hours, precipitation for 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. CST.

Robert Harvey Is Manager Of Idaho Department Store

Coming from a large department store in Spokane, Wash., where he served as store manager, Robert R. Harvey, new manager of the Twin Falls Idaho Department store, boasts 17 years of experience in department store work. He began as a shoe salesman and later became manager of several stores.

Harvey, a forestry graduate of Oregon State University, began work in 1948. He served the U.S. Army during the Korean war and then returned to Klamath Falls, Ore., to work for a department store.

Later he moved to Caldwell, where he became manager of the Idaho Department store there in December, 1963. In January, 1963, he went to Spokane to manage another of these stores.

The new manager originally is from Kansas. He is married and has three daughters, ages 14, 12 and 8.

Harvey said he and his family are "thrilled to be back in Idaho" because they had liked Caldwell so much.

He said, "We have moved many times, and never have we been as well received as we have here in Twin Falls."

The present snow pack is about one per cent higher than that for the same time in 1956. It is substantially less than in 1955. Release at Palmades was raised to 4,000 cubic feet per second. This may have to be increased further with the days to come. Preliminary studies indicate discharge at Hells of around 10,000 cubic second feet in March, 16,000 cubic second feet in April, and 20,000 cubic second feet in May and June. Weather during the coming months may greatly alter the above assumed discharges.

BOISE, Feb. 3 (AP)—Rep. James Monroe, D., Nez Perce, emphasized yesterday he would oppose measure disallowing deduction of federal income taxes paid in figuring Idaho taxes if it were not accompanied by a reduction in the state income tax rate.

He said with the reduction in rates, Idaho taxpayers would not be paying more than they are now but that the "myth" that Idaho is one of the highest income tax states in the nation would be exploded.

Monroe also pointed out that the effective rate of Idaho's tax rates is much lower than the rate schedule because of loop holes in the revenue structure.

New Method of Appointing Mine Aide Proposed

BOISE, Feb. 3 (AP)—Making the office of state mine superintendent appointive rather than elective was proposed yesterday in the Idaho legislature.

The joint legislative expense and elections committee introduced a bill making the position of inspector would be appointed by the governor with the appointment confirmed by the Senate. Appointments would be for a four-year period and the appointee would have specified qualifications.

Duties of the inspector would be to advise and consult with the state land board in its administration of state mineral lands.

The salary now $10,000 per year by law, would be set by the governor.

The office of mine inspector is not a constitutional one and the method of selection could be changed by legislative action.

Humphrey Finds Life as Vice President Full of Duties, Work and Frustrations

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—These duties Humphrey has been delegated to the corridors of the beginning of the year. Vice chairman around to their offices, full of ceremonial duties in both Senate and House of Representatives. His inability to wangle what he regards as suitable office space on the capitol.

Johnson, who was in possession of it, kept a lavish office across a corridor from the Senate chamber, as well as a ceremonial room just off the Senate floor.

In the Senate office building and additional rooms in the basement of the capitol.

The fact that he is attached to the Senate as its presiding officer, but is not of it, has been able to do is to retain a Senate butcher home to Humphrey, by office building suite, hold onto the ceremonial room and obtain the small, outer reception room adjoining Johnson's former office.

Neither did the new vice president get to move into the office of President John F. Kennedy turned over to Johnson in the executive office building across from the White House. Humphrey moved in on the floor below.

Although he was bypassed in the selection of the American delegation to Sir Winston Churchill's funeral, Humphrey has found himself tapped for other ceremonial duties.

On his calendar today was a scheduled presentation of the annual Heart of the Year award to Birdie Tebbets, manager of the Cleveland Indians baseball team, and the receipt of a woolen coat worn by the Atom Indians of Mexico's Yucatan peninsula on a loom provided by Carter.

Humphrey hasn't spent much time in his constitutional job of presiding over the Senate. He has been too busy with overseeing the administration's civil rights and antipoverty program and boning up on his assignments as chairman of the space advisory com-

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW TULLY

NHA TRANG, Vietnam, Feb. 3.—As an enemy of the more nauseating examples of bureaucratic phrase-making, I shall resist the temptation to suggest that the length army field hospital here has given the "American image" a shot in the arm. But it makes Uncle Sam look real good.

Officially, the doctors and nurses at the hospital are charged with the care of Americans wounded in action. In their precious spare time they contribute their skills to the treatment of native ills ranging from runny noses to cancer.

There is, for example, Capt. Richard Telefson, Toledo, O., a general practitioner who spends his Saturday conducting a free clinic for Vietnamese. Captain Telefson averages 100 inoculations a week, delivers an occasional baby and does what he can do for children with all manner of congenital diseases.

OPERATES ON BABY—From time to time, Captain Telefson finds a case which needs surgical attention, such as the 5-month-old baby with a glandular tumor of the neck. He brought the infant to the hospital where surgeons performed a successful operation and a flying squad of enlisted men scrounged a crib and some baby bottles from sources still unrevealed.

There is, too, Capt. John Salem, Johnstown, Pa., an oral surgeon who employs his off-hour time treating some 50 Vietnamese patients a week at the local Provence hospital here and at the Huon Chon Mennonite Mission hospital a few kilometers down the road.

BETEL-NUT CANCERS—Captain Salem has discovered that the most prevalent local disease is cancer resulting from betel-nut chewing. This causes a lesion on the inside of the mouth which is incurable, but Captain Salem's operations enable the patients to eat normally and add a few years to their lives. The captain also treats such congenital defects as cleft palates and "elephant ears" which in the States would be attended to soon after birth but which here go uncorrected into adulthood.

Washington's image manufacturers also should be pleased with Maj. Mary Clark, Denver, chief of the staff of 11 American nurses, nine of them female. Major Clark, a hearty extrovert with an easy smile, teaches English to a class of Vietnamese students twice a week on the admirably practical theory that Vietnamese citizens who can speak a foreign language will earn a better living in a country striving to emerge into modernity.

MODERN FACILITIES—Although designated "field" in a sector technically labeled a combat zone, this is a pretty fine hospital even by U.S. standards. Besides its complex of wards and operating rooms, it has dental and oral surgery departments, a radiology laboratory, and the so-called "406 Lab" which runs tests on everything from malaria to worms. It has a psychiatrist, Maj. Jon Bjornson, New York City, who deals with such cases as that of the boy who suffered hysterical paralysis on one side of his body after his first combat mission.

But to the visitor in a country whose natives are often suspicious of their white-skinned allies, the eight fields off-hours activities seem much more impressive in the light of America's long-range interests. Without gimmick or fancy talk, the staff here is glowingly persuading the plain Vietnamese citizen that Americans are people, too.

Views of Others

MORE OF THE SAME

More of the same seems to be the outlook for America's farmers in 1965. The usually reliable Farm Journal (December, 1964) looks for "farm prices, total incomes, and profits about even with 1964."

The magazine predicts somewhat higher prices for hogs, sheep and lambs, feed grains, and possibly for broilers. It sees stable prices for dairy, meat, most fruits and vegetables, beef cattle, and cotton. On the debit side, Farm Journal expects lower prices for eggs, turkeys, wool and wheat—although certificate payments will take up much of the slack in cash return for wheat. It says all payments will almost certainly be smaller for tobacco, even though prices will be slightly higher.

Exports in the grain trade say that although the European Common Market agreement of Dec. 19 on a common schedule of grain prices may slow down U.S. wheat exports, other farm goods will go to the six-nation trade group in larger volume. Greater shipments are expected of soybeans and soybean products, feed grains, corn, grain sorghum, barley, and oats. Europe's increasingly prosperous and growing population is eating more meat as its earning power and standard of living rise—and that should mean a better market for American feed grains and soybeans.

The November elections gave the administration more power to control farm legislation than has had in recent years. Various major farm programs are about to expire, and will have to be replaced, revised, or expanded. It appears likely that the government is going to begin to play a diminishing role in agriculture.

Nor is any considerable protest expected. James G. Patton, president of the National Farmers Union, in a letter of Dec. 17 asked President Johnson not to allow the "budget-slicers to cut us up in the wrong places." He suggested that family farmers, "having experienced three years of drought, disastrous livestock prices, and low farm income," should not have to suffer lower price supports.

The extremely conservative American Farm Bureau federation, on the other hand, emphasizes the need for a "discipline of competition." In a policy statement issued after the 46th annual meeting earlier this month the AFBF restated its desire to move as rapidly as possible to the market price system. Editorial Research Reports.

MORE THEY GET TOGETHER

Corporations, financial institutions and transportation systems have been effecting combinations and mergers in large numbers over a substantial period of time, having determined, to their satisfaction, that efficiency and economies can be increased thereby.

The tendency to combine municipalities and quasi-public operations is less prevalent, however. Suburbs often prefer not to become annexed to contiguous municipalities and adjoining cities and towns often retain their individual status despite considerable evidence that they could derive benefits through merger.

Two steps in the direction of creating larger and more effective administration have appeared in the news. Five separate little Oregon towns, strung along about fourth of Lincoln county's twenty-mile miles, approved a consolidation that will give them one town with approximately 3,000 residents. The name chosen, Lincoln City, is fitting, since all members of the combination are in Lincoln county.

The other combination, something of a break-through after years of effort, will give Kennewick and Richland a single Chamber of Commerce manager. These cities, along with Pasco, have many interests in common and while political merger may be some time distant, this step in combining the commercial and industrial aspirations in one administrative head should produce good results.

There are often involvements in bringing established political divisions together, but where local pride and related factors can be dissolved for the broader public interest, added population, greater resources and the power of a unified working force pay off.—Walla Walla Union-Bulletin

ANOTHER INVASION

Magic Valley residents will be interested in the latest invasion of flying saucers, or unidentified flying objects (UFO) as they're known these days. There has been such a rash of UFO reports in Virginia that Sheriff John E. Kent of Augusta county felt moved to warn "... anyone carrying firearms in the county without good reason will be dealt with according to the law." It seems there are no permits available for shooting little green men who travel in flying saucers.

It's been about 18 years now since Magic Valley had its first flood of flying saucer reports. To the credit of Magic Valley residents, no one went so far as to go "gunning" for little green men, although some folks were scared silly by what they reported they saw. Still unanswered today is the big question: Do "flying saucers" actually exist or is it a form of mass hysteria? What do you think?

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

When President Johnson described in his economic report "the unparalleled achievements of these past four years" he neglected to say how Washington is squeezing their money from the people. He also forgot to mention that the thrifty man is the forgotten man, alas.

The thrifty man's dollar is being gnawed into dollars.

And as for most Henry J. Taylor of the rest of the messages: "I read it in a book" said Alice in Wonderland.

If recessions could be made obsolete merely by governments spending more money every Italian would have a grand piano, every girl in Bali a bra, the whole world would be rich and there'd never be a moment of recession any place, ever.

The warning signals are up all over the world about the American dollar. That's why we've lost so much gold that Mr. Johnson now has no choice except to propose surrendering the gold cover.

Viewing our treasury's defunct condition, many sober voices are forced to say: "What else can we do?" And at the forthcoming senate banking and currency committee hearings, Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon and other Washington Robin Hood's of the red ink will present their alibis, as usual. But why should this richest nation in the world be in such a mess at all?

This latest trick, like the trick of borrowing more and more to pay for tax reductions, will not reverse the gold outflow. It will accelerate it. For debauching a currency is much like cancer. If the disease continues long enough without even attempting hard correctives the chances of survival are nil.

Besides, a lot of unfinished business at home like poverty, had to take second place in the years when this country's major efforts had to go into building military strength and into almost daily wrestling with the Soviet Union.

His statement about American military superiority is a good reason by itself why he feels free to pick up the unfinished business at home.

Josef Stalin and Nikita Khrushchev represented the most blatantly belligerent years for the Soviet Union after World War II. In the end, even though Khrushchev had calmed down, the Soviet leadership decided it was time to get rid of him.

Since his departure the new leaders have not only been non-belligerent but indicate now they may come over for a summit meeting with Johnson.

The pulling and hauling going on now among the western Allies is more evidence the immediate dangers have subsided. If they feel unsafe, they wouldn't dare the luxury of disagreements.

But even a period of peace, or comparative peace, can be illusory and therefore dangerous, and probably is.

At the moment Red China is no menace to the Soviet Union or the West. In 10 or 15 years, when she has a good supply of nuclear weapons, Red China may make even the cold war years look peaceful.

Further, in a relaxed period the communist world, even if the Soviet Union and Red China are uniting, are operating separately.

He put the emphasis on domestic affairs, skipping lightly over the foreign ones.

It can be argued that until his presidency Johnson's own personal experience was almost entirely with home problems and that therefore he naturally thought in those terms. But that is to be fault will be only a relative peace and may require more imagination in dealing with the rest of the world than ever before.

No inflammatory disease of the kidney stones is to be taken lightly.

If the cause is an active infection, antibiotics are given. They must be taken for at least 10 days because if there is great improvement after four or five days and the treatment is stopped, a relapse is almost sure to occur.

If the condition has become chronic, urinary antiseptics are given.

Q — Is there any way except operation to remove kidney stones?

A — About 85 per cent of all kidney stones are passed into the bladder spontaneously. If, however, the stone is more than three-eighths of an inch in diameter it cannot pass.

The surgeon can sometimes dilate the ureter leading from the kidney to the bladder and thus ease the descent of the stone.

The drug, hemiacidrin, has been used with some success in dissolving kidney stones that are composed of calcium or magnesium phosphate or carbonate.

It will not dissolve those that are composed of urates or oxalates. Surgical removal is advised only when all other methods of removal have failed.

Q — As a result of a stroke a relative has incomplete emptiness of his bladder. The doctor says this will ultimately cause uremic poisoning.

What are the symptoms of this? Does the victim go into a coma before death?

A — Uremia is characterized by a complete or partial shutdown of urine production by the kidneys.

The victim suffers from severe waterlogging of his tissues, nausea, vomiting, extreme weakness and eventually a deep coma.

Unless the function of the kidneys can be restored promptly death is inevitable.

PROBLEM MAINLY IN SOUTH'S BID

Take a look at the South hand only. You open with one spade and your partner responds one notrump. What do you rebid?

In the world championship team trials five South players chose to rebid three spades and spades would drop doubleton and South would make five odd.

Against a diamond opening each declarer cashed the ace and king of spades. Later, South discarded his losing heart on the queen of diamonds and made only four odd.

At one table West opened the club suit. South tried the club finesse. East won with the club king and returned the suit. South led a spade and his jack lost to West's ace. A third club was ruffed by East's queen of trumps, and a heart was returned.

At this point it would seem that South was doomed to defeat but such was not the case.

Since East had played the queen and eight of spades, South was able to cash his ace and king of diamonds and enter dummy with the seven of trumps for the essential heart discard.

Training for Attendants In Progress

An adult education course to train service station attendants began at 8 a.m. Monday at 304 Fourth Avenue west, in the building occupied by Wyllie's Truck Sales and Service. Thirteen men are presently enrolled and a few more are expected within the week according to E. H. Ragland, superintendent, school district No. 411.

This course was made available under the manpower development training act of 1964. Instructors are Mack L. Johnson and John McRill. Classroom instruction will be conducted by Dodson in the mornings and actual work on automobiles will be done during the afternoons under Mr. McRill.

The course will run through February, March and April.

Twin Falls schools, the local employment security office and the Idaho state board for vocational education cooperate in this project, but the entire program is supported by the manpower development act. This is the second adult course to be set up under the federal act. A course for training of farm hands was started in December and will be concluded about March 1.

The intent of these courses is to help men who are unemployed or underemployed to be retrained for jobs that are believed available in the community.

News Around Idaho

BOISE, Feb. 3 (AP)—Production of red meat by commercial slaughter plants in Idaho amounted to 16,281,000 pounds during December, the U.S. department of agriculture reported today. That was up 15 per cent from November production and up 34 per cent over production in December, 1964.

BOISE, Feb. 3 (AP)—Payment of "liens tax" on port district properties leased by firms which lack tax-exempt status would be required under a bill introduced yesterday in the Idaho senate. There is only one port district in Idaho, at Lewiston. The amount of the "liens tax" would be equal to the property tax which would have been assessed against port facilities if they were privately owned.

BOISE, Feb. 3 (AP)—Eight northcentral Idaho legislators made an aerial survey of flood-damaged areas in their counties this morning. The eight, aboard an Idaho national guard aircraft, were accompanied by Ernest Gaffney, Plummer, vice chairman of the Idaho highway commission, and Jack Pearing, Boise, planning and traffic engineer for the highway department.

The disappearance of the official appeared to be the first major incident this week during an unofficial cease-fire called to observe celebrations of the lunar new year.

The official was identified as Gustav Heritz, Leeaburg, Va., chief of the public administration division of the aid program.

Heritz lived in Saigon with his wife and three children.

A U.S. military spokesman said today that "no significant action" was reported Tuesday night on the battlefronts.

First Job Corps Camp In U.S. Opens

ASTORIA, Ore., Feb. 3 (AP)—The old Tongue Point naval station opened yesterday as the first job corps training center in the United States with 52 youths from five states.

Another 150 are expected to arrive later this month and enrollment will reach a peak of 1,250 this summer. The center is part of the administration's war on poverty.

Conversion of the naval station to a training center was a political victory for Sen. Wayne Morse, D. Ore. He had been trying for years to prevent the sale of Tongue Point to private interests.

For the youths coming to the training center, it is an opportunity to learn a vocation along with some academic work.

Trainees are school dropouts 16 to 21 years of age who volunteered for the training.

Each will stay from six months to two years for training intended to fit them for jobs.

The University of Oregon is administering the program and has hired Philco corporation to handle the vocational program. The youths will have a chance to be trained in automotive and marine mechanics, radio and television repair, air conditioning and refrigeration.

A staff of 61 teachers of counselors is directed by Douglas V. Olds, former Astoria school superintendent.

Gus Shellenbarger, assistant director, said he wasn't worried about the youths getting jobs at the end of their training.

"Many automotive and appliance firms have expressed interest in taking on some of the trainees," he said.

The first group of 52 was greeted by Mayor Harry Steinbeck of Astoria and Henry Sullivan of Washington, D.C. Sullivan is Tongue Point project administrator for the office of economic opportunity.

12 Colleges Get Grants on Retardation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. foundation Tuesday announced $240,000 in grants to 12 universities to finance planning of mental retardation treatment centers.

They were envisioned as "one-stop shopping centers" for parents seeking treatment for children with mental defects.

R. Sargent Shriver, executive director of the foundation, said the grants were "seed money" from which the foundation hoped 25 million dollars in mental retardation facilities would grow.

Shriver said the centers were needed to help alleviate two chief problems faced by parents of mentally retarded children: inadequate and widely scattered services and a shortage of skilled manpower to provide the services.

Each recipient gets $10,000 now and $10,000 later. They are: UCLA, St. Louis university, Georgetown university, the University of Wisconsin, the University of Southern California, the University of North Carolina, Cincinnati university, the University of Michigan, the University of Miami, the University of Oregon and Western Reserve university.

Shriver said the centers would provide "one-stop shopping centers" for parents looking for help for their mentally retarded children. They also would provide clinical training of physicians, nurses, social workers and teachers needed to help the mentally retarded.

The institutions selected for the grants will be expected to seek federal construction money under the 1963 mental retardation facilities construction act.

The foundation is named for the brother of the late President John F. Kennedy who was killed in World War II.

Higher Fees for Police Services OK'd by Senate

BOISE, Feb. 3 (AP) — The senate approved 32-10 yesterday a bill increasing fees for services done by the department of law enforcement. It also authorizes counties to retain 50 cents of any fee collected for the department.

Sen. Fred Critten, D., Adams said the fee increase would help the law enforcement department to "take up a deficit that in the last few years has come out of the highway fund."

The services include such things as issuing title certificates for motor vehicles. The fee would be increased from $2 to $3.

Boise Firm to Design Idaho Job Corps Camp

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP) — Awarding of a contract for designing and site preparation of the job corps camp two miles north of Mountain Home, in south-central Idaho, was reported today.

Rep. Leeland Lindberg, D., Custer, a trucking operator, said

The vote on the measure, suggested by northern Idaho log-truck operators, was 59-12.

Workers Go To Work at Rocket Site

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla., Feb. 3 (UPI) — Construction workers returned to America's new Project Apollo moonport yesterday, ending a three-day walkout that idled 200 million dollars in key space building.

Work on the 45 space agency projects that were affected by the 3,800-man strike began a slow return to normal.

Building tradesmen, directed by union leaders last night to end the walkout, began to pour into the vast base before dawn, bucking up traffic on roads that had been nearly deserted since Thursday.

Clifford Baxley, coordinator of the Brevard Building and Trades council, predicted by the end of the day that about 90 per cent of the 4,300-man work force would be back with a 100 per cent turnout Wednesday.

The walkout, fifth to hit the vast space center within a year, had kept more than 200 million dollars worth of vital space construction at a standstill since Thursday.

Baxley said the back-to-work decision was made by the officers of the council's 18 member unions after a presidential commission agreed to investigate the unions' grievances.

The main dispute that touched off the strike involved a contract between the national aeronautics and space administration (NASA) and the Marion Power Shovel company, of Marion, O.

The firm is building an eight million dollar crawler that will carry huge Saturn-5 moon rockets to launch pads. Under terms of the contract, Marion Power Shovel company uses steelworkers imported from Ohio. The local building tradesmen claim they, rather than steelworkers, should have the job.

Baxley said the Presidential missile sites labor commission will also hear six other union complaints that "are very serious." As far as we are concerned, he did not elaborate. The hearing is set for Feb. 9 in Washington.

JAKE, an 18-month-old yellow tiger tomcat, is warm and purring today, but it looks as if he's lived up one of the nine lives allotted to cats in legend. Jake had wandered away from his home, and when Mr. and Mrs. G. Kenneth Canover of Newtonville, Mass., found him he was frozen stiff—from nose to the tip of his tail. Dr. John G. Donnellan, a veterinarian, took over and restored Jake to the living cat world with his purr in good shape, but destined to lose his tail. (AP wirephoto)

Opposition To Wage Bill Is Counteracted

BOISE, Feb. 3 (AP) — Opposition to a proposed bill that would increase Idaho's minimum wage from $1 to $1.25 an hour was countered by representatives of organized labor yesterday in an Idaho legislative committee hearing.

Theater owners and a representative of the Idaho dry cleaners and laundries association contended the increase would cut into youth job opportunities and would result in employment cutbacks.

Spokesmen for labor disagreed, however, and said they did not believe there would be an appreciable decrease in employment because of a higher minimum wage.

Robert Leneghen, secretary-treasurer of the Retail Clerks Union of Pocatello, told the committee his members receive more than the minimum wage and that 25 per cent of the employees are students.

Virgil Ocell, representing the Mountain States Theater Association, said, however, that he is concerned over the effect of the proposed increase on youth employment opportunities.

"We've had a very depressed condition since the advent of television," he said, "and because of tough competition we've had about a 50 per cent mortality rate in theaters in Idaho."

He said an earlier increase in the minimum wage had eliminated a "high percentage" of part-time jobs for young people and that another increase would mean further cutbacks.

Albert G. Beattie, Boise state secretary-treasurer for the AFL-CIO, pointed out that Idaho law allows firms to apply to the state labor commissioner to hire young people at a rate below the minimum.

Ocell argued, however, that this is not a workable plan because by the time the red tape is cut the need for the worker has passed and the job generally has been filled.

Darrell Domine, state president of the AFL-CIO, disagreed with opponents of the proposal who said the increase would force job cutbacks. He said Idaho's work force had risen steadily since the $1 minimum was imposed.

El Weston, Boise, an attorney representing the dry cleaners and laundries, said the industry would be particularly hard hit by the proposed increase.

He noted a high percentage of the new labor and that competition was "very keen," particularly since the advent of automatic dry cleaning.

"Incidentally," Weston added, "I'm not sure your sales tax is going to take care of that automatic washing and that's something the dry cleaners and laundries are worried about."

Mother Held For Drowning Her Children

ARNOLD, Md., Feb. 8 (UPI) — A 30-year-old mother faced charges today of drowning three of her four children in scrub pails in a fit of pique over child neglect charges.

Mrs. Mary Jane Lester, 29, called police and her husband, Elmer, yesterday and said she had killed the children. Police rushed to her suburban home in time to save her 17-month-old daughter, Mary Janen from a similar fate.

Asked why she killed her children, Lester snapped: "Ask the welfare," police reported.

Authorities said she had been in difficulty for some time with welfare officials over the way she cared for her children. She was scheduled to appear in court on child neglect charges Thursday.

The woman's husband was at work at a plant where he is employed as a welder when the tragedy occurred. He also called police after receiving his wife's call.

Lester said Mrs. Lester used three separate pails to drown her older children, Dennis, 6; Rosemary, 4, and Elmer Patrick, 8, and was using one of the pails a second time for Mary Jane. The bodies of the three children were found in the kitchen and a bedroom.

TWO NATIONAL EXCHANGE CLUB representatives visited Twin Falls Tuesday and were featured speakers on the program during the regular noon luncheon meeting of the Twin Falls Exchange club in the Rogerson hotel Desert room. From left, discussing Exchange club programs and projects, are Roland A. T.F. Exchange Club Visited By Two National Officers Roland A. Benson, Faribault, Minn., assistant to the executive secretary of the National Exchange club, was featured speaker during the Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of the Twin Falls Exchange club in the Rogerson hotel Desert room.

Benson spoke to the club on building membership, noting that the first step in getting new members is asking someone to join.

He said the "One Nation Under God" program will encourage schools to recite the pledge of allegiance daily, besides combatting movements to remove "God" from U.S. money and the pledge of allegiance.

Benson stressed that members can't accomplish bringing a new member into the club without knowing "about" Exchange club programs, adding that the Exchange club is more than just weekly meetings, a few parties and having a good time.

He listed four of the National Exchange club's 28 programs and projects, all of which he emphasized are designed around American citizenship. They are the Freedom Shrine, national Crime Prevention week, the "book of golden deeds" award program, and the newly-initiated "One Nation Under God" program.

Benson noted that the local club has a Freedom Shrine at Twin Falls high school and is discussing the possibility of obtaining another one.

The national officer commented that the "book of golden deeds" and "One Nation Under God" programs are two activities which are not presently undertaken by the local club. The first is a program of awarding distinguished citizens for their work in the community and the latter program was initiated at the 1964 National Exchange club convention.

Explaining the "One Nation Under God" program, Benson said it will probably be the club's most important and far-reaching project in coming years.

It is planned that the program will get under way in November.

The program was approved as a national project after the club went on record to combat any legislation which would take "In God we trust" off U.S. coins.

Authorities said she had been in difficulty for some time with welfare officials over the way she cared for her children. She was scheduled to appear in court on child neglect charges Thursday.

The woman's husband was at work at a plant where he is employed as a welder when the tragedy occurred. He also called police after receiving his wife's call.

Lester said Mrs. Lester used three separate pails to drown her older children, Dennis, 6; Rosemary, 4, and Elmer Patrick, 8, and was using one of the pails a second time for Mary Jane. The bodies of the three children were found in the kitchen and a bedroom.

Injured Woman Taken to Coast

EDEN, Feb. 3—Mrs. Christine Davidson was taken Saturday by an ambulance from St. Benedict's hospital, Jerome, to Kaiser hospital, 4800 Block, Sunset boulevard, Los Angeles, where surgery may be required to mend the seven breaks in her arm.

Mrs. Davidson was injured recently in a two-car collision eight miles north of Eden, which occurred while she was driving her daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Waite, to the life of her daughter, Mrs. Helen Pool.

When released from the hospital in Los Angeles, Mrs. Davidson plans to make her home there with her daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Waite.

Benson said that in discussing Exchange club with prospective members, it should be pointed out that the club is the oldest national service organization in the country, founded in 1911.

He added that the club is similar to Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary and other service organizations, but that it is national, not international in scope.

He noted that local clubs don't necessarily have to follow the national club's programs, but can, if they decide to, completely ignore the national agenda and plan projects to fit the needs of the community.

Benson was introduced by L. S. (Les) Waite Jr., Butte, Mont., chairman of the National Exchange club extension committee.

Benson noted that the local club has a Freedom Shrine at

The Democrats, the statement said, want "no amendment without equivocation" that they unanimously oppose any effort to cause casino gambling to become an issue and an effort to place before the people a candidate supporting such a venture.

In the past two elections for governor, Democrats have chosen candidates who ran on platforms favoring casino-type gambling. Both candidates were defeated by Republican Gov. Robert E. Snyders, who vigorously opposed gambling.

Recently organized was a non-profit corporation calling itself Greater Idaho, Inc., and calling for legalizing of gambling.

The people of this state through the ballot box have demonstrated their desire for this proposal, the Democrats' statement said.

Any group or person supporting such a proposition cannot and does not have good government as a goal, but only the promotion of personal gain.

"Persons in the past supporting such oddball measures have used the open primary to place on the ballot minority candidates and thus disrupt the orderly process of good government."

To avoid the possibility of adventurers trying to exploit the public in the future, the Democratic party in its entirety is determined to oppose any such program or move to oppose any effort to create an election system which can be used by these interlopers."

Soloist was Mrs. Terry Sullivan and Tom Holler was the organist.

Pallbearers were Dr. Lee Stomk, Lynn Riedeman, Bill Riedeman, Carl Riedeman, Terry Sullivan and Howard Jansen.

Condolence services were held at Twin Falls cemetery.

MRS. AND MRS. GERALD BAKER

Mary Chatfield Is Bride of Gerald Baker

RICHFIELD, Feb. 3 — Mary Chatfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Chatfield, Richfield, aunt of the bride, and Gerald Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlin Baker, Rupert, exchanged marriage vows in a candlelight ceremony Dec. 20 at the Richfield Community Methodist church.

The Rev. James Davis, conductor, performed the double ring afternoon ceremony before an altar lighted by tall white tapers in floor candelabra flanked by beauty baskets of red carnations and evergreen.

Tony Ward was soloist accompanied by Phyllis Favel. Mrs. C. M. Pridmore played the traditional wedding music. Candlelighter was Calvin Chatfield, cousin of the bride.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soie, fashioned with fitted bodice, long sleeves and a bell skirt. Narrow lace accents edged the neckline and sleeves of the gown which was made by her grandmother, Mrs. Will Woods, Grangeville. Her jewelry was a silver cross pendant, a gift from her brother, David Chatfield.

Her hair was adorned with a satin covered boudoir holding her short, bouffant bridal veil of illusion bordered with lace. She carried a white Bible, belonging to Jody Buckley, Coeur d'Alene, centered with a crescent bouquet of white button chrysanthemums and red rose buds.

Tokens of sentiment included a single pearl, given to her by Katie North, Post Falls, and a blue garter, made by Suetta Preyer, Orangeville.

Mrs. Richard Williams, sister of the bride, Wendell, was matron of honor. Jo Ann Baker, sister of the bridegroom, Rupert, and Mrs. Robert Sorenson, cousin of the bride, Boundul, Utah, were bridesmaids.

Their gowns were identical, fashioned of spruce green aertex. Each carried a single long stemmed red rose.

Marvin Bingham, Rupert, was best man. Ushers were Dale Baker, brother of the bridegroom, Rupert, and David Chatfield, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother chose a sheath gown of winter white brocade accented with a pearl necklace and black patent accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore an ensemble in shaded red and green print. Each wore red rose corsage. Mrs. C. O. Chatfield, grandmother of the bride, chose a black afternoon dress enhanced with a corsage of red carnations.

The reception was held at the American Legion hall. The bride's Christmas color scheme of decoration was carried in the white damask covered table, evergreen swatches, red bows and red roses.

The three-tiered white wedding cake, trimmed with red roses and topped with entwined hearts and wedding bells, centered the table. White tapers in crystal holders completed the decor.

The cake was cut and served by Mrs. McKinley Proctor, Richfield, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Merle McClain, Rupert, and Mrs. Harold Baker, Paul, aunts of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Odell Chatfield, aunt of the bride, presided at the coffee service and Mrs. Everett Ward at the punch bowl.

Carolyn Chatfield, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. Marie Golicuecha presided at the gift table, assisted by Verla Worthington, Shirley, Dorothy Deeds, Janet Armstrong, Lena Sanders and Ethel Behr.

Students Tell Impressions Of Senate Youth Program

EDITOR'S NOTE — The youthful brace of 102 high school students from across the nation are visiting an annual conference this week at the capital hill. The young people are in the capital for the annual Senate youth program. One of them is Tom Metzler, 17, of Buhl, who is here with his wife, Linda. In this story he reports on the students' activities and impressions.

BY TOM METZLER,
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 — Studying about our governmental process in classroom is great for starters. But nothing beats first-hand exposure to the complex and well-oiled machinery of the nation's main political arena on capitol hill.

As one of the 102 students here for the United States senate youth program sponsored by the William Randolph Hearst foundation, I have had an opportunity to visit the offices of several senators. I saw the hectic traffic each senator labeled as "rolling."

When I visited the office of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., I was immediately taken aback by the enormous stacks of mail that seemed to completely cover his five-room suite.

One of his assistants told me that Senator Kennedy receives in the neighborhood of 1,200 letters a day and more than 25 percent are from states other than New York.

Krengel's to Open Store In Lynwood

The newest addition to the Lynwood shopping center is Krengel's hardware store, which will open at 10 a.m. Thursday in the building formerly occupied by the Music Box.

According to Henry Gratot, 781 Greenwood drive, manager of the new store, it will carry the same lines that the downtown store has, with an enlarged line of paints. Gratot has been with Krengel's for 15 years.

The second Krengel's store first was considered last October according to the manager.

It also was noted that the Lynwood store will be open on Sunday.

HENRY GRATOT

... who has been with the downtown Krengel's store for the past 15 years, will manage the new Krengel's store in Lynwood Shopping Center. The shop, which is located in the former Music Box building, will open Thursday. (Times-News photo)

The Krengel's store was opened in Twin Falls about 1903, before Twin Falls actually was incorporated as a town.

Expansion plans for the downtown store, 210 Second avenue south, are under consideration and will be announced.

In the third section Fowles sang "Un Di Felice" and "Parisi O Cara" as a duet and Mrs. McVey sang "Semper Liberate" from the opera. She also sang numbers from "Madame Butterfly" by Puccini and "Carmine Burana" by Offenbach.

Named to the committee were Reps. Pete T. Cenarrusa, R-

B.

Blaine, the house speaker; Jenkins Palmer, R-Oneida, and Darrell Manning, D-Bannock.

Three state members also will be appointed to the committee.

Cenarrusa said he did not know when or where the committee would meet to go over the proposed reciprocal agreements.

Bob Hope Classic Slated Wednesday

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Feb. 3 (AP)—Former winners Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, along with other reigning titleholders in golf, tee off Wednesday in the first round of the 90-hole, $100,000 Bob Hope desert classic. Named for you know whom, the event presents an army of 512 players, 128 of them professionals. They'll spread their talents over four courses that in most instances are more stylish than demanding.

Palmer and Nicklaus, the 1964 winner, Tommy Jacobs, along with such major champions as Tony Lema, British open, and Bobby Nichols, PGA, have one thing at least in common. None has been able to visit the victory stand thus far in the 1965 tournament campaign.

Each pro and a different team of three amateurs each round play 72 holes. In Sunday's final 18 the low 70 scoring pros go at it alone.

It would appear that after 30 holes there would be a clear-cut win for someone. But the past two years the thing ended in a tie.

Last year it was Jacobs and the popular old-timer, Jimmy Demaret. On the 18th hole Jacobs had a three and Demaret missed an 18-inch putt for a four. They had tied after regulation distance at 353.

In 1963 Nicklaus and Gary Player finished the five rounds, each with 345. They had an 18-hole playoff the next day and Nicklaus' 64 was too good for Player's 73.

The winning pro for the 90 holes will pick up $15,000, plus a sedan in the $5,000 range. The pros will cut up a $20,000 purse for their labors with the amateurs.

Among the celebrities slated to perform the Hope, Bing Crosby, who also runs a golf tournament each year at Pebble Beach, Phil Harris, Ray Bolger, James Garner, Lawrence Welk, George Gobel, Hoagy Carmichael, Lloyd Nolan and others.

The course to be played, which spread out in radius of 10 or 15 miles, are the host club this year, Bermuda Dunes, Indian Wells, La Quinta and Eldorado.

Tommy Jacobs is the home pro at Bermuda Dunes when he isn't on the circuit, and Eldorado's most noted amateur hacker is Dwight D. Eisenhower. The general won't be playing, however.

The former President is expected to be present Sunday to award a trophy to the classic winner. It is known as the Eisenhower trophy, aptly enough.

Elk Being Moved From Warm Spring

Five members of the Idaho fish and game department were in the Warm Springs area near Retchum Tuesday marking plans to move between 20 and 30 snow-bound elk to lower ground.

A temporary feeding program is also planned to keep the strength up among the remaining elk. Some deer also will be fed.

The majority of the elk to be moved, according to Ray J. Holmes, district supervisor, Twin Falls, will be transported to lower ground in the same area and some may be placed in the Magic reservoir area.

According to Roger Williams, department big game supervisor, the same equipment used recently to transplant deer from the area to eastern Owyhee and western Twin Falls counties will be re-enforced and used to trap the elk.

The elk will be moved only because of the deep snow where they are presently congregating while the deer were transplanted because there were too many for the range to accommodate.

Walkup Paces Team to City Loop Victory

Western Music, paced by Don Walkup's 13 points, scored a 10-point, 45-29 victory over the Sapphires Lomme Tuesday night in the Twin Falls city basketball league. Jerry Jenkins was high for the Sapphires with nine points.

Don McKnight, high-point man for the night with 15 points, led Times News to a tight 44-43 victory over Sherwood's Sports Center. Jim Campbell had 10 for Sherwood's.

Knicks, 76ers Take Victories

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP)—The New York Knicks erased a 14-point deficit in the first half and defeated the San Francisco Warriors 112-102 Tuesday night in the second game of a National Basketball Association double-header at Madison Square Garden.

The Philadelphia 76ers rallied in the second half to beat the St. Louis Hawks 119-105 in the first game.

Three Pace Oakley Over Cold Huskies

HANSEN, Feb. 3—Led by Bud Begle, Kirk Woodhouse and Kay Wells the Oakley Hornets took advantage of a Hansen cold spell during the entire second half Tuesday night and downed the Huskies 48-38.

The Huskies got many shots during the last half but only 11 points dropped in. The cold shooting brought the Huskies a 16 per cent average from the floor for the game.

The Oakley Jayvees won the opener 58-50.

Steve Musseau Named Football Coach for Idaho

MOSCOW, Feb. 3 (UPI) — Steve Musseau, 41, assumed head coach at the school by the university's board of regents. Musseau succeeds Dee Andros, named head football coach yesterday at Oregon State university. Elvin Hampton, president of the board of regents, said he believed Musseau will "keep Idaho on the path of progress in football."

"We regret the loss of Dee Andros," Hampton said. "However, the regents and the athletic board of control have confidence in Musseau's aggressive ability to build on the firm foundation he helped Andros construct."

A defensive specialist, Musseau is a graduate of Louisiana State university. He coached at high schools in Louisiana and California before becoming head coach at Orange Junior college in Santa Ana, Calif. He left that post in 1962 to join Andros.

Musseau and his wife have 12 children — 10 boys and two girls.

As chief Vandal assistant under Andros, Musseau manned the telephones in the press box during Idaho games to spot opposing strategy. In the off-season, he was Andros' main recruiter.

Musseau was one of the four original assistants to Andros. One, Dick Monroe, announced last month he would leave Idaho to become assistant coach for the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian professional league.

Andros named the other two, Edward ("Bud") Riley and John Easterbrook, to assist him at OSU.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY
When Twin Falls coach Paul Ostyn got the old heave-ho, right smack-out of the Nampa gymnasium last week-end, he was about as surprised as anyone in the gymnasium.

"It really stunned me," he said. "If I should have been thrown out of the Nampa gym that night, I can think of 150 other nights I deserved it more and 50 others that they shouldn't even have let me in."

Hovey, actually, was kind of comical because ever right now I don't think I did anything that I have to apologize for. I've done worse about something I've done and just been given a technical foul."

At the outset of the game Ostyn felt the officiating wasn't bad, but it wasn't real good." In the third quarter, Nampa's Tom Baird rolled out of the post spot, knocked down Bruce George Smith and stepped on his own in the way to a cripple. I started up then, but caught myself," Ostyn recalls.

The next time down the floor, the ball again went to Baird, who is 6-foot, 6 inches and 210 pounds. Baird took three big steps, then dribbled once before crashing into Alan Brown, Twin Falls. The officials called a foul on Brown.

I figured it was them that had to take a stand on the officiating. If they were going to let Baird do that we had no chance. So I came up fully expecting the technical foul. We were within three or four points at the time and the technical could hurt, but I felt it would be worth it," Ostyn said.

Ostyn charged the one official and asked, "What about the talking? He traveled before hitting my boy and the foul was on him anyhow." Ostyn recalls the official said, "I know he walked. I just missed it and I'm sorry." Ostyn asked him to "call blocking the same on both ends of the court." And the official responded, "coach, I missed the call. I'm sorry. Just go back to the bench."

"I thought I'd made my point, had my technical and was ready to go on with it," Ostyn recalls. "But I just turned around and took a half step when the other official, who hadn't been anywhere around, came running up and said, 'that's two,技术犯规'."

The other official had settled me down real well... handled the situation perfectly. But when that other one came up I saw red."

You don't even know what was going on here," Ostyn yelled at the new official.

That's three, that's three," came the retort.

The guy was as white as a sheet and I figured I'd better get out of there. So I went and sat down," Ostyn said.

Then I did a very childish and foolish thing. I knew better. I had no business saying it but I did. The guy was standing a few feet from me and I said, in a little more than a normal voice, you think you're going to work a state tournament. Didn't forget it," Ostyn smiled unconsciously.

Boy, he exploded. He got as far as my shirt," Ostyn said, describing a dress shirt.

"You've got 60 seconds, 60 seconds to get out of this gym," the official yelled.

He was pounding his wrists so hard I thought I'd see him coming flying around the room second," Ostyn said.

Looking back, at that point I can say without hesitation I'm grateful in being as old as I am. If any official would have said something like that to me years ago I would've said if

Schollander Given Award as Most Outstanding Athlete

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP)—Don Schollander, the first swimmer ever to win four gold medals in a single Olympics, outdistanced the field again Tuesday when he was named as 1964 winner of the James E. Sullivan memorial award, presented annually by the Amateur Athletic Union to the nation's outstanding amateur athlete.

Schollander, 18 years old and a brand new Yale freshman, is the youngest athlete ever to receive the honor, which is given in recognition of sportsmanship as well as achievement.

Earlier this year he was chosen as male athlete of the year in the annual Associated Press poll.

In the heaviest voting in the 35-year-history of the Sullivan award, Schollander was named first on 352 ballots cast by a panel of sportsmen, sports writers, broadcasters and Olympic athletes. He was first, second or third on 538 of a total of 730 ballots and on a 6-2-1 scoring basis received a total of 2,161 points.

Richfield gave the Pirates fits with tremendous driving in the first half and forced Hagerman into a zone defense for the first time this year. The Tigers couldn't end the zone with outside shooting.

Church of Brethren Holds Annual Ground Hog Supper

The "Ground Hog" supper, a tradition of the Church of the Brethren in Twin Falls, was held Tuesday in the church fellowship hall with about 500 people attending. About 100 of these persons were served at the noon meal and the rest during the evening.

The Twin Falls church has been having the supper for about nine years to raise money for its building project.

According to the Rev. Ewell Hixter, the ground hog supper is pretty much an idea of the Church of the Brethren and originated in the Midwest many years ago.

The church uses an old German recipe for the making of

The car started to roll backwards and a passenger also getting out of the car, Sadie Keath, 71, 311 Sidney street, was able to jump out of the way.

However, police said Mrs.

Stocks was unable to get out of the way because of a fence. She was knocked to the ground by the open car door and the left front wheel of the vehicle ran over her legs.

She was taken to Magic Valley Memorial hospital in another car.

Smylie Hopes Law Will Solve Border Disputes

BOB (Feb. 3-17)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie expressed hope yesterday that a bill he signed into law would solve problems which have plagued the Utah-Idaho border disputes in the past.

"The measure increases from

60 to 90 days the period in which boats licensed in other states may be operated in Idaho without being required to be licensed here."

"This enactment," Smylie said,

"should remove any source of

at the time of the Unpleasantable on the border a year ago last fall."

Several Big Decisions Facing America in '65 Listed

Mail on FBI's Wanted List Is Captured

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (UPI)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover announced yesterday that Lee Parman, a suspected murderer on the bureau's "10 most wanted" list, was captured yesterday in Los Angeles.

Parman, 32, was captured in connection with the attempted slaying of a Washington D.C. secretary, had a .25 caliber automatic pistol, 50 rounds with him, robbery demands noted in a metal box in his room when he was arrested.

According to the FBI, Parman was unemployed and while the son of George D. Parman, it was alleged, he was quoted as saying he had attempted to assume a new identity, but "I am afraid it is over because I am the target of rotund from the FBI."

Parman, an ex-serviceman with a long criminal record, was sought in the murder of 32-year-old Shirley Ann Clegg. Her body was found in an alley in the capital on the early morning of Jan. 9. The woman had been savagely molested.

FBI records show that Parman has been arrested or confined in Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado, Kansas and the District of Columbia, and has been convicted of armed robbery, kidnapping and fraud in several states.

Washington, Feb. 3 (UPI)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover announced yesterday that Lee Parman, a suspected murderer on the bureau's "10 most wanted" list, was captured yesterday in Los Angeles.

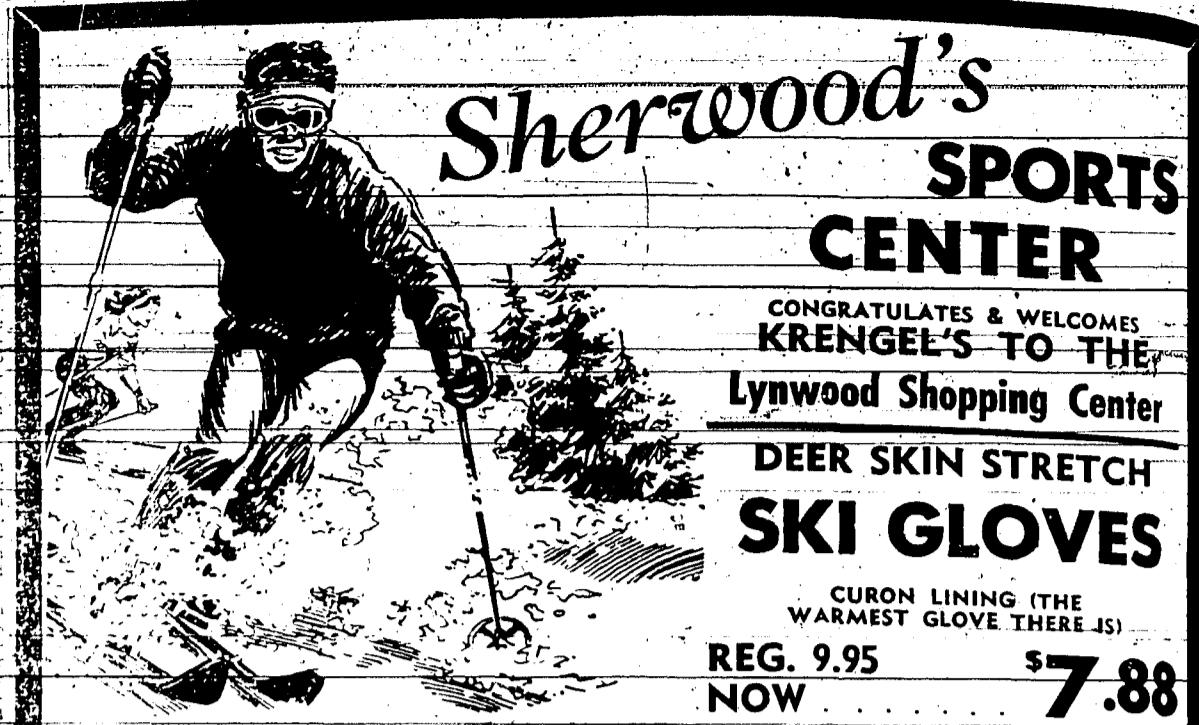

Parman, 32, was captured in connection with the attempted slaying of a Washington D.C. secretary, had a .25 caliber automatic pistol, 50 rounds with him, robbery demands noted in a metal box in his room when he was arrested.

According to the FBI, Parman was unemployed and while the son of George D. Parman, it was alleged, he was quoted as saying he had attempted to assume a new identity, but "I am afraid it is over because I am the target of rotund from the FBI."

Parman, an ex-serviceman with a long criminal record, was sought in the murder of 32-year-old Shirley Ann Clegg. Her body was found in an alley in the capital on the early morning of Jan. 9. The woman had been savagely molested.

FBI records show that Parman has been arrested or confined in Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado, Kansas and the District of Columbia, and has been convicted of armed robbery, kidnapping and fraud in several states.

Writer Describes de Gaulle, Last Survivor Among "Big Four"

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
PARIS, Feb. 3 (UPI)—"And then Britain to prove to French eyes that he was not a British puppet," Churchill added.

So President Charles de Gaulle of France may have mused as he paid a last silent homage in London's St. Paul's cathedral to Sir Winston Churchill, "my wartime companion and my friend."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, who once wrote off de Gaulle impishly as "that prima donna," was dead.

So was Josef Stalin, whom de Gaulle branded in his memoirs as "a man possessed of lust for power."

Now Winston Churchill, hailed by de Gaulle in death as "the greatest" of the World War II allied leaders, was dead too.

In his 75th year, seemingly tireless and indestructible, de Gaulle is an aloof, aging man and the most powerful and controversial leader in present-day Western Europe.

He is a man ruled by a blazing ambition to go down in history as the unbending Frenchman who restored to France her ancient "grandeur."

"All my life I have thought of France in a certain way," he set down as the opening words of his memoirs. "To my mind, France cannot be France without me."

Four years of wartime dealing with de Gaulle's prickly nationalism prodded Churchill into recalling sadly "Of all the crosses I had to bear the heaviest was the cross of Lorraine."

"He had to be rude to the British to prove to French eyes that he was not a British puppet," Churchill added.

Twenty-five years later, de Gaulle is older, grayer, paunchier, but basically unchanged.

De Gaulle probably has had more brushes with death than any living statesman.

On Sept. 8, 1961, terrorists tried to kill him by exploding a bomb alongside the car in which he was speeding from Paris to the Elysee palace to Villacoublay his country home at Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises.

The pain of the car was seared but de Gaulle was unharmed. His first reaction was to tell the driver "Step on it." His only comment later was "that was stupid."

On Aug. 22, 1963, another gang of terrorists opened machinegun fire on his car while he and Madame de Gaulle drove from the Elysee palace to Villacoublay to prove to French eyes that he was not a British puppet," Churchill added.

"The thing I object to," he said, "is the sale of undergraduate potatoes."

"It then requires that all other potatoes sold within the state meet inspection standards throughout the state. It is highly discouraging to buy potatoes in the state of Idaho and find you have green ends, rot, hollow centers, etc."

He said the legislation he seeks would allow the farmer to sell to the consumer in small lots without grading while at the same time protecting the movement for packing or processing.

But he said that what happens in practice now is different.

"In many cases, potatoes which are sold in large quantities do not meet inspection standards and are sold out of state. It is highly discouraging to buy potatoes in the state of Idaho and find you have green ends, rot, hollow centers, etc."

He said the legislation he seeks will allow the farmer to sell to the consumer in small lots without grading while at the same time protecting the movement for packing or processing.
